

CUSTOMER CHURN ANALYSIS

Telco Customer Churn Dataset

7.043K

Total Customers

1.869K

Churned Customers

5.174K

Retained Customers

26.5%

Churn Rate %

73.5%

Retention Rate %

64.76

Average Mont...

32

Average Tenure

Customer Churn Distribution

Internet Service vs Churn

Gender vs Churn

Contract Type vs Churn

Count of customerID by PaymentMethod and Churn

Contract

- Month-to-month
- One year
- Two year

gender

- Female
- Male

InternetService

- DSL
- Fiber optic
- No

RETENTION & LIFETIME ANALYSIS

64.76

Average Monthly Charges

32.37

Average Tenure

0.73

Retention Rate %

Retained Customers by Contract

Churn ● No

Retained Customers by Internet Service

Churn ● No

Customer Distribution by Internet Service

Contract

- Month-to-month
- One year
- Two year

gender

- Female
- Male

InternetService

- DSL
- Fiber optic
- No

key Insights:

- Two-year contract customers have the highest retention.
- Fiber optic customers show higher churn compared to DSL users.
- Customers with longer tenure are less likely to churn.
- Electronic check users exhibit relatively higher churn rates.

Recommendations:

- Promote long-term contracts to improve retention.
- Encourage customers to switch to automatic payment methods.
- Focus retention campaigns on Fiber optic users.
- Reward loyal customers with tenure-based benefits.